Our Edmonton Letter

(T. B. Windross)
Nov. 3rd.

Edmonton, Alta. — Election forecasts in Alberta have dropped into the background in recent weeks and the reason for this is that nobody wants an election — yet. Despite government claims that an appeal to the country would return them to power, nobody in the administration, and Premier Aberhart least of anybody, is bold enough to put the thing to the test.

The fact is that everything now points to dwindling support for the Social Credit government and the loud boasting over the radio of the "vast majority of our people are behind us," is just so much piffle and party propaganda — certainly it isn't the truth even on Sundays.

The results of the big protest meetings in various places has shattered that "90 per cent" support story to shreds and the perpetuation of it by government platform speakers is clear evidence of the inaccuracy of their theories and beliefs and the political dishonesty of their aims. But the chief factor in the situation that precludes an election at any early date is the dwindling streams of "Blue Pledges" coming into government headquarters.

Premier Aberhart and Hon. E. C. Manning have both recently, over the air from their Sunday platforms, declared how satisfactorily the blue pledges are coming in. The Premier two weeks ago, declared that, judging by the way the blue pledges are "pouring in" it seemed that no election will be necessary. That, of course, is just a bit of clever political trick speaking. There are two ways in which the blue pledges could pour in, one by the million — which would indicate that an election would be a safe bet — the other is, in a fast diminishing stream, — which would indicate an election is not a safe bet. The course which the government will follow, judged in the light of the fact that a renewed mandate from the people would be of the greatest advantage now to the administration, will be the true indication as to how much reliance can be placed on the unqualified declarations that Blue Pledges are pouring in. It is significant that for some weeks now the boasting in figures in connection with the Blue Pledges on Sunday afternoons and evenings has ceased. No definite figures are given. The matter is all just desperate sales talk now and the real fact is that the Blue Pledges, like the famous "conventions" and "prosperity certificates" are a dismal failure.

No, there will be no election until it is either forced on the government in some way, or until Premier Aberhart has reasons for guessing that he will get back into his position as big teacher of Social Credit and would-be dictator of the consciences of the people of Alberta again. He is unlikely to surrender his premiership before he is forced to do so.

But, a byelection is now in the offing once more and it may be of material help in convincing the halting portion of the public to make up its mind on the question of support for the government of Alberta. It is likely to come off in Lethbridge in early December, reports in government circles indicate the first of December.

This byelection, unlike the recent one in Edmonton, will be a battle in which the government is vitally interested and must take a part unless it is too cowardly. It is for one of the seats in the legislature belonging to the Social Credit party left vacant by the retirement of Hans E. Wight.

There can be no doubt as to which way the voting will go, providing the old line political parties do as was done in Edmonton and place a single candidate in the field. The majority of electors in Lethbridge are opposed to the Aberhart regime, and if they are not split up into small units can easily swamp the government candidates under a storm of ballots.

A prominent Edmonton business man, not in politics and whose judgment is beyond question, was through the southern part of the province recently and on returning declared the whole south country had turned from Social Credit and the recessionary procession was gaining momentum weekly. This gentleman was once spoken of by Premier Aberhart as a sound and reliable business man whose judgment was of the best. Perhaps now, — as in other cases where the premier's views are not swallowed whole without questioning — he will change his mind regarding his estimate of the gentleman's qualities. The premier has only one gauge to measure his friends and opponents by and that is, "does he believe in my sincerity and greatness?" He doesn't put it in that many words, but the names of Cockcroft, Chant and Thigill illustrate the fact.

STAKE PRIESTHOOD MEETING LAST SUNDAY

At the Stake Priesthood meeting on Sunday last Elder C. E. Allred and Mrs. O. H. Snow reported the recent Conference in Salt Lake City, and Mrs. C. W. Fossey gave a talk on Research Work. The Welling Ward singers, led by Spence O. Wilde furnished the singing for the meeting. On behalf of the Lesser Priesthood of the Stake, Franklin Smith made a presentation of the photo of the memorial erected on the International Boundary last year to Pres. H. S. Allen, recently released Stake President, to which Pres. Allen fittingly replied.

It was announced Sunday that Elder Wilford Shields had been put in charge of the Stake Missionary work in the Coultis district and will be organizing for the winter's work at once.

The coldest weather yet was 14 above, the night of the heavy frost the early part of the week the highest temperature of the past week was 70 above on October 28th. This is some weather record for Southern Alberta this late in the fall. This information is supplied through the courtesy of Mr. Grey, caretaker of the A.C. School. Precipitation in October was 1.19 in.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL MEETS

The monthly meeting of the Municipal Council was held Tuesday at the Town Hall. Routine matter occupied the time of the meeting, and Reeve Peterson and Fred Romeril were chosen delegates to the Annual Convention in Edmonton on November 17, 18, 19. The Council concurred 100 per cent in the Province's action regarding relief, a copy of which letter will be found elsewhere in this issue. The pay roll was passed and road work reported finished for the year.

John Mehew Sr. Passed Away Sunday

Raymond lost one of its oldest and a highly respected citizen on Sunday in the passing of John Mehew Sr., who for 34 years had been a resident of the Town. He was 85 years old and had been ailing for some months, although at no time was he desperately ill, death being due to old age and natural causes. Mr. Mehew is survived by his two sons Charles and John, Jr., and a stepson Wm. Rouse; three daughters, Mrs. W. H. Zohell, Mrs. R. W. Tollestrup, of Melfort, Sask. Mrs. Oliver Long, Lethbridge and a step daughter Mrs. Mitchell, Salt Lake City. Deceased was a painter and decorator, a trade he learned in his native land, England.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Funeral services were held in the Stake House Wednesday at 2 p.m., with Bishop J. O. Hicken in charge. W. W. McMullin conducted the singing with Mrs. Albert Winkler at the organ. The hymns by the choir were "Oh My Father" and "Sometime We'll Understand." T. K. Roberts also sang a vocal solo.

The speakers were Elder Ray Knight, who spoke of his acquaintance with deceased 40 years ago while in England on a mission, and the welcome and kind treatment the Elders of the Church always received at the Mehew home. He also lauded the fine character of deceased and the good life he lived. Pres. Heber F. Allen and Pres. Melvin T. King of the Stake Presidency were other speakers as the service, speaking of the assistance and help the Mehew family had always been in the wards of the Church where they lived, and of the good heritage of faith and piety that deceased had given his children. Speaking of death and the resurrection, they spoke of the hope in sorrow and distress that the Latter-Day Saints teachings gave on these matters. On behalf of the family Bishop Hicken thanked all who had assisted in any way during the illness and death of the father.

The opening prayer was offered by Elder P. J. Christensen the benediction by Pres. H. S. Allen and the grave was dedicated by Elder C. E. Allred. A large cortege followed the remains to the cemetery where interment was made under the direction of the Lawnview Mortuary.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the children in the loss of their father.

Big Beet Pay Monday

Southern Alberta beet growers were the richer on Tuesday by about $606,000 when Canadian Sugar Factories Limited mailed checks over the week-end to beet growers for that amount in payment of the 1937 beets delivered up to October 15th. Another beet pay day will be made on December 3rd. A good share of this initial payment is taken up in seed, fertilizer, drilling and labor, and it is not until the second pay that the grower feels the business of the remittance. However, this first payment does help greatly.

By the end of the week beet harvest will be just about completed. The splendid weather has been a great boon to growers and they have taken full advantage of it not only to finish the digging but also the hauling, and while there are small farmages sited at different farms, these are small, and as fast as the Factory can handle them, these will be hauled in. Possibly not in the history of the beet industry in Southern Alberta has the harvesting season been more favorable than has been the case this year. The mountain of beets at the local Factory prove the truth of this statement.

News Notes

Nearly everybody who sees our Xmas Cards and the prices, say, "How can you do it?" Come in and see the Cards, and we will tell you how. They are real values at the prices offered. — The Recorder.

L. J. Mehew has installed a new post drill in his shop this past week. It is the latest drill out with changeable gears and several improvements over the old type machines.

A bye-election will be held in the Lethbridge constituency on Dec. 2 to fill the seat in the Alberta legislature left vacant by the resignation of Hans E. Wight, Social Credit member J. C. Hendry has been named Returning Officer and enumerators are busy now on the Voter's List.

Munroe Pratt, aged 30, Cardston, known to many Raymond people was killed in a car accident just east of Cardston Monday afternoon, when a blow out threw the car out of control. A punctured lung was the cause of death. Wm. Rollins and M. Pyper escaped serious injury, although Pyper is in hospital from chest injuries. An inquest is being held. Deceased is related by marriage to Mrs. Lowell Court.

Miss Doris Hannah, who was a Raymond resident several years ago, recently returned to Raymond, after more than two years spent in England. She is looking well and is glad to get back to friends in Raymond. She reports her brother Bob is in London and doing fine.

At the Quarterly Conference in Lethbridge Sunday the Lethbridge Stake voted unanimously in favor of the erection of a Ward and Stake House combined in the city of Lethbridge under the Church Security Program. H. Wm. Meech, Lethbridge architect is to journey to Salt Lake City to take up the matter of plans with the Church architect there, and also to visit other buildings to get the latest ideas in this type of construction.

We received a copy of the magazine "Life" in this week's mail. Of especial interest to Albertans is the long article and illustrations on the recent trip of His Excellency the Governor General and party to the northlands of Canada. His article is especially fine both in description and illustration, and with the other fine camera views in "Life" makes it a very interesting volume.

WEDDING BELLS

SWANSON — FISHER

The home of Mrs. J. E. Fisher was the scene of a pretty wedding last Saturday at 1 p.m. When Margaret, youngest daughter of Mrs. Fisher, became the bride of Jack Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Swanson of Medicine Hat. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brewerton supported the young couple, and parents of the groom and relatives of the bride witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Bishop J. O. Hicken.

A buffet lunch was served to 25 relatives and friends after the ceremony and after a brief honeymoon, the young couple returned to Raymond where the groom is employed at the Sugar Factory.

RADIO SERIES "CANADA 1937"

It was announced today that the radio series "Canada 1937" which scored such success last season is to be renewed starting November 5th. This season, this most spectacular of Canadian broadcasts will be heard Friday-evenings at 10.00 p.m., E. S.T.

Outstanding commentators under the guidance of Vernon Bartlett will again speak from Europe — an interviewer in Canada probing for answers to the questions of the "man in the street"

Lionel Shapiro, Canadian correspondent in New York, will speak from N. B. C. Studios, relaying such latest happenings of the Gay White Way as are of interest to Canadian listeners.

A new technique will be introduced in the talk-of Canada to make the very pulse of the nation audible to listeners throughout the country. Mr. Walter Bowles will broadcast from different locality each week, telling of that district's contribution to Canada's progress and interviewing "nation builders" who make that progress possible.

Yet another outstanding feature of the program will be the music — every selection will be specially arranged for the large orchestra and choir that is now in rehearsal.

In sponsoring these broadcasts — to be again produced by Victor George — Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Limited, is bringing a new experience to Canadian listeners. These Friday evening programs are live demonstration of the fact that the Canadian broadcasting is equal to the challenge for something new and spectacular.

The Monday evening of the Rotary Club, held in the United Church, was featured by the motion pictures Max Hoffman, Lethbridge Rotarian, took on his trip last spring and summer to the International Convention of Rotary in Nice, France.

Starting with his trip across Canada on the C.P.R., down the St. Lawrence, etc., he took the Rotarians into his native land of Switzerland, showing the Rotarians into his native farm life, into Germany and France, scenes of the Convention, also a reel of the Coronation, and lastly scenes of Waterton Park and Camp Inuspl, which is sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Musical numbers were a trumpet solo by Paul H. Redd, and a Piano Solo by Miss Margaret Allen. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the local Rotates and some of the ladies who attended.

Next Thursday is Armistice Day, and while not a Statutory holiday is usually observed by business houses in Raymond.

MISS PHILLIPS PUPILS IN RECITAL

The piano pupils of Miss Muriel Phillips were heard in recital in the High School Auditorium last Friday night, there being 19 numbers on the program, which lasted for over an hour. T. W. Meldrum acted as Chairman and announcer of the numbers, and there was a very nice crowd present to listen to the pupils perform. A comment on several pieces, explaining the story of the composition added to the interest of the evening. Following are the numbers:

Norma Redd, "Song of the Bull Frog" by Williams.

Marilyn Holmes, "The Cuckoo" by Williams.

Jimmie May, "Fairies Dance" by Williams.

Barbara Redd, "Rondelay" by Dutton.

Margaret Wing, "Song Without Words," by Streablog.

Teddy Brewerton, "Spinning Song," by Ellmer reich.

Katherine Allen, "Four Elise" by Beethoven.

Vera Meldrum, "General Grant's March" by Mack.

Steele Brewerton "Etude in Ab" Wollenhaupt.

Phyllis Redd, "Flower Song," by Lang.

June May, "Gypsy Rondo" by Haydn.

Lillian Roberts, "Soldier's Chorus" by Gounod.

Alma Redd, "Pizzicato" by Debibes.

Louene Heninger "Ballet Music" "Schubert."

Sylvia Holmes, "Tarentile" by Heller.

Eva Cope, "Impromptu Mazurka" by Lack.

Margaret McBride "Scherzo" Margaret Allen, "Prelude in C sharp Minor" byRochmaninoff.

The National Anthem brought the recital to a close, after a few words of appreciation by Miss Phillips for the crowd present and the good work of the pupils taking part on the program.

Many favorable comments were heard after the recital of the progress of the boys and girls, and the effect that such training will have on the quality of music we might expect in our town in the future.

THE MEASURE OF A MAN

By what measuring rod are you measuring your life? By what course are you steering your acts and thoughts as you journey along life's highway? Methinks if men and women kept these questions in mind there would be more brotherly love and much less pain and heart ache arising from misunderstandings and petty jealousies than we see in our daily contacts today.

Man is a dual being and live not alone for himself, but for his family, his associates and his friends. You work at your vocation to make a livelihood and to increase your knowledge. Your spare time is devoted to the things you enjoy, and some of us labor for the uplift and betterment of mankind and some of us in our selfishness live for the satisfaction of our desires; and satisfying these impulses we not only damage our own lives, but we make many others suffer with us. Most cases are thoughtlessness, and we never think of the damage we are doing others by the follies we participate in.

Whether we like it or not, each one owes a debt to society. There is a place of leadership for every man and every woman who will take it, and as a member of the community we owe it to our town, and our neighbor to do our share. How well we measure up in the service we render will be remembered long after the dollars we have made have been forgotten. Call to your memory the rich men you can think of, and see if they are remembered and respected for the millions they amassed, or the service they rendered their fellow men, and the money they bequeathed to charity? When you think of them one by one, the noted characters of history are not the men with the biggest fortunes in dollars and cents, but the men who have carved their names largest in the service they have rendered society.

So, as we journey through our days, we should remember that many eyes are on us. As fathers we have sons who will be our seconds. They are absorbing, unconsciously the traits we have. They will be just about the same in judgment, likes and dislikes, that we are, and if we desire that they be better men than we are we should be making our lives better every day. As members of society we have our niche. It may not be the top, and we may not receive the plaudits of the crowd for the things we do; but if in our quiet way we can do the work assigned us and do it well, we can rest content in the fact that a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, and the capstone is useless unless there is a good foundation. Not what you have but what you are is the test of greatness.

DIRECT RELIEF STOPPED

In a letter mailed to all municipalities last week, the Provincial Government has withdrawn all relief except in cases where a full and detailed report show that it is absolutely necessary in order to prevent want and suffering. So that all may see just what the intentions of the Province is in this matter, we are reprinting the letter in full, at the request of the Town and Municipal Council both, as both these bodies are heartily in accord with the decisions of the Province.

In view of the improved condition in prices of farm produce and also in the labor situation, the Councils feel that no families, where the bread winner is in good health, should need any assistance, and in accordance with instructions of the Province, it will only be in cases of emergency that any assistance at all will be given. Any who may have received help in the past should consider these orders from the Provincial Government and govern themselves accordingly.

The water pipe at the new Town dam was welded on Monday this week, and placing of this line, and work on the core will continue as long as the good weather holds out.

IT WENT TOO FAR

There was general indignation on Monday morning over some of the destruction to property which took place, and the writing on store and shop windows. Saturday night was fairly orderly, but Sunday night, possibly because little was said Saturday night, there seemed to be no regard for anything.

It is too bad, and while there is no use crying over spilt milk, it is a safe bet that Halloween will be suppressed in the future, and pranks will be confined to harmless fun, or serious consequences will likely follow. No one desires to rob youth of its fun, but when wanton destruction of property takes place, and windows defaced with vile language, then decent people demand that the brakes be put on.

NEWS NOTES

RENEW YOUR RECORDER?

Dame rumor says that Hon. Mr. Fallow will be asked to resign because of the findings of negligence in the Lunny report on highway construction. The Premier however, states that there is no ground for such action in what information has been produced.

Two new houses are under construction at the present time. Cement was poured Monday on Ken Stone's new house, next to Wm. Redd's home. This will be a 28 x 28 foot building with full basement. L. L. Anderson is also starting a new home just between Dr. Hall's and Arthur Dahl's homes. Roy sold his home last spring to Karl Schneider and is building a new & modern one to move into. C. W. Lamb, we understand is supervising the erection of both these houses.

COUGHING

Coughing is almost invariably a reflex act. It may occasionally be a neurotic or wilful act. In the vast majority of cases the stimulus which originates the cough is situated in some region of the respiratory passages between the vocal chords and the tiny little terminal air cells in the lungs which are found at the end of the branches coming off the windpipe. This is called the bronchial tree.

The cause of the irritation in the respiratory passages is in the majority of cases either an inflamed or congested condition of the mucous membrane lining the passage or an excessive quantity of mucous secretion brought about by invading enemies called germs. Less frequent causes are hemorrhage in the lungs, inflammation in the larynx, pressure upon the windpipe by an enlarged thyroid gland situated like a horse shoe around the air passage in the neck, or foreign bodies in the throat or windpipe such as dust or particles of food.

The character of the cough varies with the cause and to some extent with the general state of health. The most obvious distinction in the quality of the cough is that between the moist or loose cough and the dry or hard cough. The loose cough indicates the successful removal of mucous from the air passage which in adults results in expectoration. Children usually swallow secretions which they cough up. The dry cough indicates the presence of an irritant which the cough is unable to remove from the air passages. The hard cough of catarrh is usually followed by the early stages of bronchial a loose cough consequently upon the production of mucous which is secreted by the inflamed membrane. It is most important that persons suffering from a dry hard cough be kept warm and free from chills or exposure in order that the inflammation which is present may not be permitted to progress to the point of invading the lung tissue and thus produce pneumonia.

A short, weak, frequently repeated dry cough is known as a hacking cough. It is due to a mild irritation in the upper passages, a condition which if untreated may become chronic. Inflammation of the larynx and vocal chords causes a barking cough which is usually infrequent in removing any mucous.

Coughing is much more prevalent in winter than in summer because disease germs which are so frequently present in the mouth and nose flourish when the body is subjected to lower temperatures. It is, therefore, most important that in winter every effort be made to keep the body free from undue exposure to cold and wet. When a cough does develop stay indoors if at all possible until all danger of developing a serious infection has passed. A neglected cough or cold accounts for a great many serious illnesses and a great many deaths. It doesn't pay to ignore a trouble some cough.

Questions concerning health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College St. Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Working as usual on our 120th Birthday

One hundred and twenty years ago there were only seven of us working on the staff of the Bank—a cashier, an accountant, a paying teller, a second teller, a discount clerk, a second bookkeeper, and a porter—that was the entire staff. Today we are more than 6000, in more than 500 Branches, all working to render modern, experienced banking service.

Our Bank's career has been inseparably woven into the career of the nation and every part of it. Founded in 1817, the Bank at once became a financial pathfinder for Canada's pioneers. Through all the intervening, eventful, growing years of Canadian life, our Bank has kept strong and efficient—by pursuing a policy of safety for depositors and by keeping our services always abreast of modern conditions.

In times of expansion and depression, in the best and the worst of economic conditions: through peace and wars, panics and political upheavals, Canada's have learned to rely upon the unwavering safety and banking assistance of the Bank of Montreal. Older than the Dominion itself, yet young as the latest sound business enterprise of Canada, we are working as usual on our 120th Birthday.

WEEKLY LETTER

SOREMOUTH IN LAMBS

With lamb feeding now well under way, it may be the misfortune of some of the feeders to find their lambs developing sore mouths and being unable to make good use of their feed. Although seldom proving fatal, this disease takes an annual toll in the form of unthrifty lambs and prolonged feeding time.

Many sheepmen have been under the impression that the disease is due to the particular feeds used, but actually the cause of the disease is a virus which is too small to be seen even with the aid of the most powerful microscope. Various complications, which may involve the tongue, nostrils and visceral organs and even cause death of the individual, sometimes occur but the organism responsible for these complications is a secondary invader and only affects the sheep after the sores have formed.

Soremouth usually occurs only in young animals. The first symptom usually observed by the rancher or feeder is a swelling of the lips, accompanied by a slight reddening. If examined more closely, it will be seen that as the swellings increase in size they become filled with pus and later they rupture, allowing the fluid to be discharged. A yellowish-brown scab then forms, thickens, gradually becomes darker and fall of in two to four weeks leaving no scar. The symptoms are not always the same but may vary from season to season, from flock to flock or within a flock. There may be only insignificant scab formation on the lips, or any part not covered with wool or hair may be affected.

The virus has been found in soil and the litter of sheep sheds but how long it remains alive has not been established.

In the medical treatment of soremouth it is essential that attention be given as early as possible. When no treatment is used animals usually recover in two to four weeks and an immunity follows. Segregation of affected animals and the use of a germicide will speed up recovery and thus minimize losses. Probably the most satisfactory germi-

DON'T FOR WIVES

Four "Don'ts" for wives who want to live happily ever after were laid down by a Yugoslav writer who claims marriage is a science.

A wife, he says, must NOT Show jealousy—it will make her husband regret his liberty; Worry him—he has enough cares;

Question him—if he doesn't want to talk, let him alone; Forget a clean, bright house and good food are the basis of love.

In addition, says this expert a wife MUST be her husband's Mother—taking care of him as though he were a child; Mistress—satisfying his need for tenderness and love

Mate—prepared to fight for him to the death; Comrade—understanding his interests, helping his work.

Yet she must remain an individual—preserving a separate personality.

A dump wagon crew is starting at the Town reservoir this week to build up the main dam. The grader of the Sugar City municipality has been hired to load the wagons, and twenty outfits are hauling the dirt and are raising its height quite rapidly.

icide is the five per cent solution of iodine. This may be used alone or mixed with one to two parts of glycerine and should be applied with a stiff brush so that it will penetrate through the scab. Sometimes it may be necessary to remove the scab before applying the iodine. Preventative measures for the disease have not been developed.

NEW SIGNS FOR ALBERTA ROADS

For some years tourists visiting this province have expressed strong protests over the lack of directional signs on the highways.

Besides having poor roads, this province also was deficient in respect to road markers, it was claimed.

This situation has been given the serious consideration of officials of the Alberta Motor Association, who have from time to time impressed upon the provincial authorities the vital need of proper road signing.

Now that the province has embarked upon a hard surfacing program, adequate road signing is all the more necessary, it is pointed out.

A start has been made on this work by the province, following an interview which officials of the A. M. A. had with Hon. Mr. W. A. Fallow, Minister of Public Works.

Posts with directional arrows have been placed at certain points on the Calgary-Banff highway at locations selected by the A. M. A. officials. Posts and arrows are painted white with the wording in black.

Next spring, it is understood the government will place signs on the main highway from Edmonton to the U. S. border.

Letter re Relief

GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA
BUREAU OF RELIEF AND PUBLIC WELFARE

EDMONTON, Alberta,

October 15th, 1937.

TO ALL ISSUING AUTHORITIES

During the year 1937 fair crops have been produced in a large portion of the Province and the prices received therefor are equal to, if not greater than, those received during the average years prior to 1930, and in view of this Municipalities must be prepared to assume full responsibility for their indigents, including those who are unemployed.

We feel that the time has arrived when the individual must depend upon his own efforts to provide for himself and his family. This can be done if the individual residing in a rural Municipality would make a sustained effort and realize that the responsibility of looking after him no longer rests with his tax-paying neighbour.

It is not the wish of the Province at this time to withdraw all unemployment relief or agricultural assistance, but it is the intention of the Province to drastically reduce their grant and it will, hereafter, only contribute to applications for assistance where a complete report definitely indicates justification.

Municipalities that consider they have a relief problem which they are financially unable to provide for, may make application to the Province for assistance. To such applications must be attached a statement of the financial position and information given as to what action they have taken to have those requiring relief make provision for themselves and accept employment when it is available.

Municipalities must insist that persons who are given help must work out the full amount of relief received, as a contribution to the taxpayers of the district who are contributing towards the payment of such relief.

It is considered at this time that in the event of relief being required in some districts the rates previously in effect can be greatly reduced as there is no excuse for any individual residing in an area where crops and gardens were produced is not making provisions for his vegetables, which are a great contribution to a man's subsistence. There may be cases where a man was unable to plant a garden for himself but the lack of vegetables on this account may be easily overcome by the individual exchanging work with a neighbor who has a surplus supply.

Municipalities may either call at the Bureau of Relief and Public Welfare and present their position in respect to relief for the coming year or may forward a brief, so that we may be in a position to give their requests careful consideration.
